Uncle "Thuseiah" wanted a White Shirt for a "Tickler Puppis."

"Mist John, I d ne come ter see ef yer cayn't give ol' nigger one white shirt yer done got fer wearin'." said Uncle "Thuseiah," a well-known old negro of this vicinity, a day or two ago to a Brother (Gee), a correspondent of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, who told him that he thought he might find him a shirt.

"Thanks, sah, I knowed you was the one ter come ter. I tells yer, I want dat shirt for a mighty tickler puppis." Here the old dapper fellow chuckled, till it seemed that his life was in jeopardy.

"What occasion?" was asked him, when he felt his head and neck, after the fashion of negroes when embarrassed, but all the while grinning broadly and looking about him with a sheepish delight.

"Well, sah," he said at last, "I declare hit don't mos' kill ole nigger ter think 'bout it, but I want dat shirt for a tickler puppis. I want dat shirt for a tickler puppis."

AMONG THE PLAYER FOLK.

Signorita Otero, Carmenita's Rival, to Be Welcomed Sunday.

Johnnie Learns of a Disturbance in the London Gaiety Company.

A number of people are going down the bay on Sunday to meet Signorita Otero, the Spanish dancer, who, it is announced, is going to prove a dangerous rival of Carmenita. Otero will appear at the Eden Music next month. Those who are to meet her will be the Eden Music people (not the wags) and Manager Reynolds. Mr. Reynolds says that he spoke to Carmenita about Otero, as the two are supposed to be quite friendly. "She is very pretty," said Carmenita when asked about the lady, "and how does she dance?" To this the Pearl of Seville replied with a shrug, "I don't know."

Otero will dance for the benefit of her employers before she appears in public. It is rumored that one of her dances is quite too dreadfully awful, and if this is found to be the case, it will of course be omitted. Otero is quite young. The pedigree which Mr. Reynolds carefully prepared for her has already been made known. Her efforts will be passed upon by the directors of the Music, for as Mr. Reynolds justly says, "It is a great mistake to let an artist go from the stage, her employers uncertain as to what she is going to do."

Miss Lillian Lee is still playing at the Elephant and Castle, in London; but she is now devoting her energies to the title role in William Yardley's burlesque, called "Little Jack Sheppard."

Raymond Holmes has been engaged by E. D. Price for Mrs. Carter's company. Mrs. Carter, by the by, is working very hard. She spends her mornings at the Berkeley Lyceum, rehearsing her part under the direction of David Belasco. Her company will not rehearse with her until next month, her opening in "The Tenth Muse" occurring in November.

Arthur Denny, who is to be leading man in the new play, "The Tenth Muse," is said to have been engaged by the by, Mrs. Carter's son-in-law, W. J. Ferguson, her strangely succeeding actor, comes up in the Supreme Court tomorrow. The trial will be held at the Union and three delegates from the Central Labor Union, and three delegates from the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, will be present.

SPORTS IN FIELD AND AFLOAT.

The Coming Yale-Crescent Football Match in Brooklyn.

A Lively Regatta Promised on the Passaic Saturday.

The Yale University football eleven will play the Crescent team, Oct. 4, at the grounds of the latter team in Brooklyn. This game ought to be close. The Yale men will have only from Sept. 27 to train and practise in and will have a raw team, as a week will not be sufficient for them to select their regular team. Their eleven will be largely made up of candidates who will not secure places on the final team. Most of the team will be raw material.

The Crescent, on the other hand, will have their regular team on the field, and it will be better than last year. Capt. Ford says the rush line will be twenty-five per cent. stronger than that of last season, while the men back of the line are in better condition this year than last. Harry Beecher, who devoted very little time last Fall to practice, will get himself into good trim for this season's campaign. Later on all the members of the team will board at the Club in order to secure all the practice possible.

The members of the New York Bicycle Club who recently withdrew from that organization have now joined the Citizens' Bicycle Club. Their places in the roll of the New Yorks were immediately filled from the list of applicants for admission, which is always large. In spite of reports and rumors to the contrary the New York Bicycle Club is in a prosperous condition.

The Corinthian Athletic Club will hold a members' athletic tournament this Fall, commencing next Monday. The one scoring the largest number of points secures a suitable testimonial.

There will be a five-mile team race at Orange next month, in which the Atlanta, Hudson County and Orange wheelmen will participate for the championship. The date has not yet been settled.

The ten-mile handicap road race over the Hudson County course will take place Sept. 27, promises to be quite successful. It is open to all amateurs of Hudson County, and they have responded to the invitation in full force. The Elizabeth wheelmen alone will enter the majority of their fastest riders.

The Ravenwood eight-oared barge crew may challenge the winner of the Hudson-Fairfax contest, which occurs Saturday. The Ravenwood crew is considered one of the crack barge crews about New York, and has entertained a strong feeling of rivalry all Summer against the Hudson and Fairfaxes. The Ravenwoods are sure to challenge the winner of the contest, and it is interesting to see whether they will do so this Fall or wait until Spring opens.

The champion single-oar of the Triton Boat Club is anxious to try conclusions with the best eight of the New York Athletic Club on the water. The New York boys have no objection to a contest of training for the season, and do not care about resuming hard practice until next season, although they may change their minds. They stand ready to row any crew next year.

Jim McCon, the middle-weight boxer of this city, who obtained quite a reputation as a pugilist in New York, will be tendered a benefit next month. He is in need of money, and the benefit will take the form of a boxing and athletic entertainment.

The Manhattan Bicycle Club holds a meeting Sept. 25 to discuss the business affairs of the Club and listen to the reports of the officers.

The Xavier Outing Club will inaugurate its Fall season Sunday, Sept. 22, by an outing to Rimmels Hotel, Whitehouse, Long Island.
